Meet the LiveMove Sidewalk Quality Team

Anne Brown (she/her):

Anne Brown is an Assistant Professor in the School of Planning, Public Policy, and Management at the University of Oregon. She researches transportation equity, shared mobility, and travel behavior.

Chris Skawski (he/they):

Chris is a second year MPA student in the School of Policy, Planning, and Public Management. Chris enjoys infrastructure policy and studying the built environment. They are originally from upstate New York, where they still call home and hope to one day work on their sidewalks.

Alex Alonso Gudino (he/him):

Alex is a fourth year double major in Global Studies and Spanish. Originally from Hillsboro, OR, Alex is an active member of Mecha on campus, and joined the sidewalk inventory team as a way of being involved with the larger Eugene community.

Matt McCreary (he/him):

Matt is a senior studying Planning, Public Policy, and Management at the University of Oregon. In addition to his work with LiveMove, Matt interns with Better Eugene-Springfield Transportation as a Transportation Safety Planning Intern. He is passionate about being a dedicated public servant in the transportation field, creating transportation systems that work for and benefit everyone. His favorite way to get around cities is walking and so the Sidewalk Quality project was important to him.

Braden Ravenscraft (he/him):

Originally from Arizona, Braden is a senior at the University of Oregon studying Planning, Public Policy & Management. He is interested in making our transportation systems more sustainable, and while we're at it, making them more accessible for everyone! Outside of school, he likes to explore the outdoors, as well as watch and play basketball and soccer.

Jordan Rohrer (he/him):

Jordan is a second year Public Policy, Planning and Management major at the University of Oregon. He is focusing on public policy and planning. He is especially interested in the intersection between public health/human services and city planning. Being part of the sidewalk collection team and collecting data based on ADA requirements is an important part of this intersection.

Aidan Austin (he/him):

Aidan is a first-year student studying Planning, Public Policy, and Management with a focus on transportation-related topics. He grew up in Portland and when at home he works for the Portland Streetcar. He also likes biking; he's a PeaceHealth Bikeshare Ambassador and is looking forward to studying Bicycle Transportation in his study abroad this summer. In his free time he likes travel, especially riding long-distance Amtrak trains across the country! Outside of that he has also enjoyed exploring the public transit systems in Europe, Japan, and in the states.

Cory Frost (he/him):

Cory Frost is from Oakland, CA. He is a 2nd year student at the University of Oregon in the Planning, Public Policy, & Management department. He is interested in city planning, urban design, and anything related to transportation. In his free time he enjoys biking, playing soccer, and hanging out with friends.
