

Calming Traffic

1. Edge Striping

- Makes street appear narrower reducing car speeds
- Creates visual separation between cyclists and parked vehicles

2. Speed tables/bumps

- Forces cars to brake at certain areas
- Can be used near to intersections to cause cars to slow before high-traffic pedestrian zones
- Modifies car behavior without the need for additional signage.

